

LONE BANDIT ROBS LOCAL GAS STATION

A very daring holdup took place last Sunday evening at the Shell Company's station at 6417 Mission street.

J. Blevins, the attendant in charge, was sitting by the cash register when a young man, dressed in overalls, entered and quietly sat down. After sitting quietly for a few moments, he drew a gun which he had concealed under his coat and ordered the attendant to turn around while he helped himself to the cash in the register, which amounted to $60.

After he had pocketed the money, the youthful bandit forced Blevins to sit down while he quietly walked out of the station to a point where he said he had two confederates waiting for him on the San Bruno road.

The attendant gave the alarm and Marshal Doyle and several others gave chase, but it is supposed that the bandits made their get-away over the hills and back into San Francisco.

The description given of the man by Mr. Blevins tallies with the man who held up a gas station in Oakland last week, and it is fully expected that he will be run down and captured before long.

PURCHASING LAND TO WIDEN HIGHWAY

The city of San Francisco on Monday began the purchase of rights-of-way necessary for the breaking of the peninsula highway "bottleneck," and expects to have the job completed within a few months. Maps and charts defining some forty parcels of property were turned over to the city's right-of-way agent, Joseph J. Phillips, by the State Highway Commission.

Several weeks ago all parties interested reached a compromise. Colonel John H. Skeggs, divisional engineer for the state commission, announced that the new widened road will be ready for reception of the motorists on Christmas day this year.

JOINT INSTALLATION PLANNED BY N. D. G. W.

The regular meeting of El Carmelo Parlor No. 181, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will be held on Wednesday evening, April 7, in the Masonic Hall, Daly City. Important announcements will be made in regard to the coming big joint installation of the Parlor of San Francisco and Daly City to be held in Native Sons' Hall, on Friday evening, April 30. All members are requested to be present at this meeting.

MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR ANOTHER SERVICE STATION

Dr. Rankin, the recent purchaser of the lots at the corner of Mission street and Theta avenue, is making a great change in that locality. He is filling in the space level with Mission street and will soon transform it into another oil station. In this way, he says, he sees his way clear to a good income on his investment, and that's all he wants. Concluding, the Doctor says that all successful people are those who have the courage to do things.

GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY

A very delightful surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. H. Fellows, 451 Niantic avenue, last Sunday evening. The party was given by Mrs. Lombard on the occasion of her husband's birthday. It was indeed a surprise to Mr. Lombard on entering the home of Mrs. Fellows, which was beautifully decorated, to find such a great gathering of old time friends. After a few remarks by Mr. Lombard, the friends spent a most delightful evening in dancing and singing, and at the close everyone expressed themselves as having enjoyed the party given in honor of Mr. Lombard.

Interesting Vocal Recital

The vocal recital last Saturday afternoon by the pupils of Miss Eula Grandberry in the Emporium Auditorium was very excellent. Mrs. D. P. Bentley, of Los Banos avenue, rendered three selections. A number of Daly City people attended, among these being Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. H. F. Secor and Mrs. H. Warhowski and twin daughters.

Aged Man Run Down

August Thorn, aged 66, of Redwood City, is in a critical condition as a result of being struck by an automobile while he was pushing a bicycle across the street. It is claimed the aged man walked directly in front of the automobile and was hurled to the pavement.

SCHOOL ELECTION PROVES DECIDEDLY DIGNIFIED AFFAIR

The school election last Friday was a decidedly dignified affair, quite the contrary of such an event in the past. Throughout the whole day not even one person became excited, in fact it was no easy matter to get a few people to go to the polls and cast their votes.

The cause of the lack of interest was the fact that both George R. Augustin of the elementary schools and Adolph Gehring of the high school were both candidates without opposition to succeed themselves.

The following votes were cast: Crocker Tract, 44; Vista Grande, 50; and Colma 16 votes. Both candidates received nearly all the votes cast.

A nice, quiet election, occasionally a welcome change. This great appreciation shown by the people places a heavier responsibility upon the shoulders of the candidates elect.

EASTER SERVICE TO BE HELD ON HILL

Easter sunrise prayer services will be held on the hill where the cross stands on Easter morning, April 4, next Sunday, at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Charles H. Gatchell, pastor of the local Grace Presbyterian church, will speak of his visit to the Garden Tomb in the Holy Land.

The service will last not longer than 30 minutes. The Presbyterians and the Methodists are in charge of the service and everyone is invited to join in this beautiful service on Easter morning.

THE GARDEN TOMB
THEME OF ADDRESS

Next Sunday evening at the Grace Presbyterian church, Mr. Gatchell will give a description of Gordons Calvary and the Garden tomb, the place where Christ was crucified and buried, as acknowledged by the best authorities and writers of the day. Mr. Gatchell visited these places and can give you first hand information of places made sacred by Christ.

A union service will be held with the Daly City Methodist church at 7 o'clock on Easter morning on the hill near the reservoir, south of the post office. Rev. McClintic and Rev. Gatchell will have charge of the service. All are invited to make this a real resurrection service.

Sunday services at Grace Presbyterian last Sunday were the best yet, morning and evening, and if you were not present you missed a treat. The large audience listened with intense interest to the sermon lecture on the Passion Play of Oberammergau, and many expressed their thanks for the enlightened address.

Twenty names were given to the session for its approval for church membership for next Sunday evening. The services next Sunday evening will begin at 8, instead of 7:30 as heretofore. Our music and with the orchestra gets better each time. Mrs. D. G. Gatchell, of Centerville, sang a solo Sunday evening which was much appreciated. Special music is being arranged for next Sunday.

People get joy out of things they work at, and if you put your time and work in this, the best of all works, then you will be more than interested here. Come and try it, and if not satisfied, tell us and we will make it right for you.

SPECIAL EASTER MUSIC AT METHODIST CHURCH

"The Resurrection of Jesus Taking Place Today" is the subject for the sermon theme at the Daly City Methodist church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Special Easter music has been planned and a large Easter audience is expected.

Last Sunday Mr. McClintic spoke of Palm Sunday and Christ's entry into Jerusalem. He emphasized the moral grandeur and beauty of Christ's character, and His ability to conduct himself in a truly heroic manner.

Mrs. Bennet of the choir sang a beautiful solo and the choir also offered a prayer hymn.

DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE PARTY

A delightful surprise party was given to Al Brady at his home, 626 Templeton avenue, last Tuesday evening, in honor of his fifteenth birthday. Refreshments were served at midnight, and an enjoyable time was had by all. Among those present were: Mildred Franklin, Ruth Moran, Pauline Aiello, Elizabeth Moser, Vera Burani, Amelia Peterson, Evelyn McKee, Alvin Cobleigh, Andy Vireno, Al Brady, Paul Rauschan, Elmo Viotti, Jack McNally, Buster Foppiano, Joe Moran and Mr. and Mrs. Brady.

ORDER OF DE MOLAY TO BE INSTITUTED

Jesse M. Whited, Grand Marshal of the Grand Council, Order of De Molay, made a most interesting address to about forty Daly City boys at the Masonic Hall last Tuesday evening, giving them some valuable information regarding the Order of De Molay, a Chapter of which body is to be instituted in this city next Saturday evening. The institution ceremonies will take place at the Jefferson Union high school auditorium, next Saturday evening, April 3, at 7:30, when parents and friends of the boys are invited to be present. Following the institution ceremonies, initiation will be held at the Masonic Hall, followed by a banquet.

Mr. Whited announced that the growth of the De Molay has been phenomenal. At the close of the year 1920, there were 3,336 members of this organization. The close of 1921 found 28,638 members; 1922, there were 68,629; and at the close of 1925, 120,370 members were enrolled.

When the movement was started in Kansas City some six years ago, it began with twenty-five members, and had in its treasury $2.25, which was contributed as dues by its members. During 1925 the Grand Scribe's office expended over $135,000 in maintenance, development and expansion. The degrees of De Molay were conferred last year in over 4,000 meetings, and 43,113 were initiated during the past year.

Three hundred and three Chapters reported an observance of Patriots' day, with a total attendance of 20,296. Two hundred sixty-three Chapters held a Parents' day service with a total attendance of 24,952. Two hundred Chapters held Educational day services, with an attendance of 34,700. Sixty-one Mothers' and Sons' banquets were held, with 9,041 mothers present.

The Order of De Molay is non-sectarian, and teaches clean living, an observance of the laws of the land, and is calculated to make better citizens of the boys and young men of the nation.

We believe the Order of De Molay will be a distinct asset to this community, and all boys who desire to improve themselves in a moral and physical manner will find a welcome. The organization is composed of young men between the ages of 16 and 21.

TWO KILLED, SIX INJURED IN WEEK END AUTO CRASHES

Two persons were killed and six injured in a series of six automobile accidents in San Mateo county last Saturday night and Sunday. The most serious accident occurred near Half Moon Bay, Sunday night, when five men were thrown out of a car over which the driver had lost control. Joseph Valentino, ranch hand, was killed, and Marion Consarni, Half Moon Bay, Charles Consarni, Mrs. J. E. Brickel and Mrs. Janet McKay, of San Francisco, Louise Martini, aged 7, of Colma, and John Enos, of Palo Alto, were injured.

Harry Mann, of Redwood City, died early Monday morning at the Mills Memorial hospital after crashing headlong into a touring car at San Carlos, Sunday night. Mann was riding a motorcycle at the time of the accident.

SPRING OFFENSIVE AGAINST ALL HEADLIGHT VIOLATIONS

A spring offensive against all California violators of headlight provisions of the motor vehicle act was launched yesterday by the traffic department of the division of motor vehicles.

Declaring that the glaring headlight must go, Will H. Marsh, chief of the division, has issued an order to the captains of all county squads to have their men devote at least two nights a week to this important work during the summer months. More than 200 state officers will take part in the drive and scores of municipal and county officers will co-operate.

Motorists caught with glaring headlights will be required to have them adjusted to legal standards within twenty-four hours. They must present a certificate of adjustment from an official testing station within this period to the justice of the peace or district attorney in which the arrest is made.

MANY LIVES TAKEN BY SMALLPOX IN THIS STATE

Smallpox claimed more lives in California during the first seventy days of 1926 than during the entire years of 1923, 1924 and 1925, according to the state board of health. There were at least 125 deaths attributed to the disease, while more than 1,400 cases were reported.

DALY CITY PIONEER
ANSWERS SUMMONS

On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the flag on the City Hall of this city waved at half mast, out of respect to the memory of Frederick Conway Hensley, of 218 Woodrow street, who passed away during Monday night, after a lingering illness. He was one of the popular and well known citizens of this city, having come here among the pioneers and having served the city as a member of the board of trustees.

Since he was spared to the advanced age of seventy-eight years, he was conversant with much of the social, political and fraternal history of San Francisco. His conversation was always both interesting and instructive. He was a member of different fraternal associations, but as a Forester of America the writer knew him best. Of that organization he was one of the first Grand Chief Rangers. Recently, his greatest pleasure was to attend a banquet of the Foresters and he always had a forthright story to tell. Brother Hensley will be missed among the speakers.

He leaves to mourn his departure two sons, William J. Hensley and Edward D. Hensley, of Oakland, and three daughters, Mrs. Mary Kutter, Mrs. Thomas H. Joyce and Mrs. Jacob Mack, all the heads of homes of their own, and his wife, Mary G. Hensley, who is well known in this city, and to whom the sympathy of all is extended.

Mr. Hensley was a member of Excelsior Lodge No. 166, F. & A. M.; California Chapter, R. A. M.; California Commandery No. 1, K. T.; Islam Temple; Past Master Association Past Chief Rangers, F. of A.; Court Robin Hood, F. of A.; Secretary Veteran Firemen's Association.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Masonic Temple, Van Ness avenue and Polk street, under the auspices of Excelsior Lodge No. 166, F. & A. M. Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park.

There was a very large attendance at the funeral services held in the Masonic Temple, San Francisco, and the ceremonies were very impressive. The Fire Department of San Francisco, together with the Veteran Firemen's Association, participated. The Masonic fraternity of Daly City was represented by Former Mayor Edward Freyer, George E. Archer, James Syme and George F. Henry; the Eastern Star by Mrs. Charles F. Schoenfeld, Mrs. Lillie Henry, Mrs. George Archer, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Geo. F. Henry and Mrs. O'Brien.

BANCITALY DECLARES
25% STOCK DIVIDEND

Declaration of a 25 per cent stock dividend, and a parallel increase in the annual dividend rate, effective April 10, has been announced by A. P. Giannini, president of Bancitaly Corporation.

Every stockholder will receive five shares of the new $25 par value stock, for each share of the present issue, and all of the new shares will carry a dividend rate of $2.24 or $11.20 for each five shares. This will represent a 25 per cent increase over the present $9 dividend.

This program, as outlined by Giannini, will be carried through at the same time that the authorized four to one stock split-up occurs, reducing the par value from $100 per share to $25. The additional share that is to be distributed in the form of a stock dividend will be issued in conjunction with the new shares.

In a letter addressed to the stockholders of the Corporation, Giannini said that the board of directors had determined to make the dividend apply to all five of the new shares, dating from April 1, although the distribution is not to be made until April 10, to stockholders of record at noon that day.

"The dividend on these new shares," said Giannini, "is to be at the annual rate of $2.24 per share, or $11.20 on each group of five shares. The effect of this is the same as a 25 per cent increase in the dividend rate itself."

"We are asking each of our stockholders to surrender the old certificates as quickly as possible after April 10, in order that the new plan may be made effective without delay."

Appreciates Work of Firemen

The Redwood City fire department has received a check for $100 and a letter from J. C. Williamson, prominent merchant of Pescadero, in appreciation of the efforts of the Redwood City department in stemming the disastrous fire at Pescadero on March 19. The department made the perilous run of more than 30 miles shortly before midnight in an hour and a half over the La Honda mountain road.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS TRIP ENJOYED BY STUDENTS

During the month of March, this year, our District Superintendent, W. J. Savage, made four trips to Mt. Tamalpais with different classes of the Jefferson schools. Three times Eighth graders went to the top of the mountain, enjoying all the stages of endurance from pleasant walking at the foot to the heart-breaking slide near the top. During the rest at the summit a hearty lunch was partaken of and the management of the tavern allowed considerable freedom for play and general refreshment. Much root beer was disposed of and thus the tax was paid.

The afternoon trip was down the mountains by the way of the railroad track, Noah's trail, the pipe-line wind, and the rattlesnake gulch pathway to Muir Woods. This is a long route, but interesting all the way.

From Muir Woods weary feet rested, making the pleasant stroll to popular Joe's place.

Then, over the hills and down the stairs to Mill Valley and the hiking was done, but the pleasure was not ended, for the ride home in the electric train, big ferry boat, and street cars affords more occasion for unlimited joy. All were safe at home shortly after nine in the evening.

One Seventh grade worked so hard at school and pleaded so courteously for the honor of a Tamalpais trip that it was granted. The members did not climb to the top, but instead they made the trip to the Big Lagoon, where they engaged in wading in the surf and rafting to their heart's content.

On every trip the weather was very delightful. Never before were the days so delightful in March.

This Tamalpais trip affords so much real enjoyment for such a small outlay that it is highly recommended to everyone, old and young.

SPEAKERS NAMED FOR P. T. A. CONVENTION

Plans for the fifteenth annual convention of the Second District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held at the Fairmont Hotel, April 6, 7 and 8, embrace addresses by some of the leading educators in the bay district. Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools of the city of Oakland; H. B. Wilson of the Alameda county schools and Joseph Marr Gwinn of the San Francisco school department are among those listed.

The evening of April 6 will be given over in honor of Mrs. Hugh Bradford, president of the state organization. Professor W. E. Hotchkiss, head of the graduate school of business at Stanford University, will also be a dinner speaker.

Day sessions of the convention and the evening of April 7 will be given over to reports of officers and chairmen, an institute on parent-teacher work, round table and music furnished by the San Francisco schools. The San Francisco Congress of Parents and Teachers, which is the hostess organization, will entertain the delegates with a ride and tea on Wednesday afternoon. Reservations for all luncheons and dinners are being taken care of by Mrs. Ernest Grant. Mrs. George F. Keil is chairman of the program committee.

Mrs. Ernest Benson, president of the San Francisco Congress of Parents and Teachers, who has charge of the arrangements for the convention, has announced the following women from the San Francisco Federation to assist her: Music, Mrs. E. W. Hammond; decorations, Mrs. B. C. Clark; reception, Mrs. Joseph Sloss and Mrs. A. Abrams; information and finance, Mrs. Samuel Lipman; automobiles, Mrs. W. A. Smith; ushers, Mrs. E. T. Eheleben; tea, Mrs. K. I. Dazey and Mrs. H. C. Rothwell; exhibits, Mrs. George Gallagher.

BOY SCOUTS ARE GUESTS OF NAVY ON GOAT ISLAND

Boy Scouts of San Mateo county were guests of the navy department on Goat Island over the week end. More than 225 boys made the trip.

Navy tenders carried the boys and their Scoutmasters to the island. The Scouts gathered about a camp fire Saturday night and staged stunts, including exhibitions of the Charleston.

Troop 115, of East San Mateo, carried off the honors in a basketball tournament, defeating Troops 10, 98 and 119. It also won first place for having the neatest quarters.

Somewhat Carved Up

William Dodson, colored, received three knife wounds in the chest and side and had his clothes cut to ribbons, following an altercation with George Noble, also colored, in a restaurant in San Mateo. Dodson's injuries are not considered serious. His assailant is being held.

ASKS POPULAR VOTE ON COUNTY MERGER

Definite steps looking toward the consolidation of San Francisco and San Mateo counties were initiated Wednesday by the circulation of petitions asking the boards of supervisors of both counties to call the necessary elections.

The petitions were being circulated by a committee headed by William K. Sonne in San Mateo, Burlingame and other points.

The San Francisco board of supervisors is asked to petition the San Mateo county supervisors to call an election. This is under authority of a measure passed ten years ago providing for such procedure.

The San Mateo county supervisors are petitioned to call an election to vote on the annexation to San Francisco county of all that portion of San Mateo county bounded by the bay shore on the east, the Belmont line on the south, and the Spring Valley chain of lakes on the west.

The committee is said to be made up largely of San Francisco commuters who are property owners in San Mateo county.

COURT RULES THAT BANDIT MUST DIE

Floyd Hall, the unlucky one of the "phantom bandits," Tanko and Hall, must hang. His sentence was confirmed Tuesday by the State Supreme Court, which denied his petition for a new trial.

The death sentence was handed down in an opinion by Acting Chief Justice Thomas J. Lennon, and was the shortest opinion on record in such a matter. After reviewing the case, the opinion said: "Under the verdict, as it stands, there being no recommendation for a life sentence, there is nothing for this court to do save impose the death penalty."

Hall was charged with the murder of H. J. Litzenberg, Sacramento merchant, last May. A Sacramento jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree, but declared itself unable to agree on his punishment. The presiding court ordered death, and Hall appealed to the Supreme Court.

VALLEY ROAD HOUSE RAIDS NET TWENTY

Swooping down simultaneously on practically every resort, road house and saloon in Santa Clara county, a flying squadron of forty federal prohibition agents under Colonel Sam I. Johnson on Tuesday night raided seventeen establishments, arrested twenty people and seized more than $25,000 worth of liquor.

The raids were carried out in cooperation with Sheriff George Lyle, Chief County Detective William J. Dreischmeyer and Colonel Elmer M. Cox, prohibition chief for the southern counties.

The "zero hour system" inaugurated by Colonel Johnson when he took charge of raiding was used so effectively that the raids came as a complete surprise in every place visited. In one road house a cleverly concealed trap in front of the bar was sprung when the agents entered, and one of the agents was precipitated 10 feet below into a dark cellar. He was uninjured.

CHAMARITA PLANNED FOR HALF MOON BAY

Plans are being formulated for the big Chamarita celebration to be held in May at Half Moon Bay under the auspices of the I. D. E. S. Society of the coastside. A meeting was held Saturday and initial plans were outlined. Final plans for the celebration will be made at the meeting of the I. D. E. S. Society to be held in Half Moon Bay on Monday, April 18. The Misses Aileen Bettencourt, Margaret Valladao, Mary Capote and Laura Bettencourt have been named members of the queens' court.

San Mateo Plans Clean-up Week
Clean-up week will be observed in San Mateo April 12 to 17, it has been announced. All rubbish except garbage will be removed free by the city, providing it is placed in boxes, sacks or other containers and left at the curb line during that week. Last year between sixty-five and seventy loads were carried to the city dumps.

Proposal for Joint Pound

Proposals for the appointment of a joint poundmaster for San Mateo and Burlingame and for the maintenance of a joint pound were made before the Burlingame city trustees last Monday night. The proposition will be placed before the San Mateo officials.

REINSTATEMENT OF WAR TIME INSURANCE

Over thirty billion dollars worth of war time insurance is now waiting in the vaults of the United States Veterans' Bureau to be reclaimed by World War veterans, according to information just released by the United States Veterans' Bureau. The deadline is July 2, 1926.

Four million American World War veterans will lose their insurance rights unless or on before July 2, 1926, they take steps to protect them. July 2, 1926, is the final date set by congress to reinstate and convert their lapsed and unconverted insurance.

President Coolidge has expressed his unqualified approval of the campaign recently inaugurated by the bureau to bring to the attention of all ex-service men and women the desirability of immediate reinstatement and conversion of their war time insurance.

Director Hines has issued instructions that every man or woman entitled to this insurance be advised of his or her rights before it is too late. No person in this age should need to be convinced that life insurance is desirable. Every eligible veteran should get right on his government insurance before July 2, 1926.

A veteran in good health may apply on or before July 2, 1926, for the reinstatement of all or any part of his term (war time) insurance which has lapsed for a period of more than three months in multiples of $500, but not less than $1,000, by submitting an application for reinstatement and a report of a complete physical examination, together with a remittance covering two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated.

If term insurance is reinstated for the purpose of conversion, only one monthly premium at the term rate and the first monthly quarterly, semi-annual or annual premium at the converted rate on the amount of insurance to be converted is required.

A physical examination will be made free of charge at the San Francisco regional office. This examination may also be secured, at the expense of the applicant, from any reputable physician licensed to practice medicine.

Further information and blank forms will be gladly furnished on request by letter, telephone (Garfield 3466), or personal call to Major Frederic A. Royse, Chief of Co-Operation Section, San Francisco Regional Office, U. S. Veterans' Bureau, 883 Market street, San Francisco, California, who is in immediate charge of the insurance activities of the San Francisco office.

ALL WESTERN TOUR
PLANNED BY K. OF C.

More than 250 officers and members of San Francisco Council No. 615, Knights of Columbus, with their families and friends, will embark from San Francisco on June 20, aboard a special train for a trip as far east as Denver, and calling for visits to the four National Parks.

The trip is an "All Western Tour," and will be one of the most elaborate ever arranged for a Knights of Columbus Council. The trip will be made in a de luxe train, and the tour will cover a period of eighteen days.

Visits will be made to the world famous Grand Canyon of the Colorado, Yellowstone, Glacier and Rainier National Parks. Tours will also be made to other marvelous scenic points, such as the Garden of the Gods, Manitou, and the Cave of the Winds in Colorado.

Famed Indian villages, representing the last frontier of the first Americans, including Isleta Indian village and those in Albuquerque, New Mexico, will also be included in the trip.

The visiting tourists will be taken for a tour over the famed Columbia highway in Oregon. Generous arrangements have been made to afford the maximum opportunity of making leisurely visits to all places included in the itinerary.

OPTOMETRISTS ASSOCIATION

TO MEET IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco will play host to the largest national educational congress ever held by the American Optometrists Association, according to Dr. Charles B. Hobaracht, general chairman of the arrangements committee.

The conclave will be held in the Civic Auditorium from June 28 to July 2. More than 3,000 delegates and their friends from all parts of the United States will come to San Francisco. Special trains have been arranged for to bring the delegates to the congress.

During the four days of the educational congress, Market street will be gaily decorated. The Auditorium will present one of the finest exhibits of modern optometrical instruments ever seen in the country, according to Dr. William G. Lindsay, chairman of these arrangements. An elaborate program of entertainment has been arranged for the visiting delegation.

DUTY OF CAR DRIVERS WHERE

CHILDREN ARE CONCERNED

Automobile drivers, who are required to exercise ordinary care at all times in the use of the streets, are not required to exercise increased care by the mere fact that children might also use the street at the same time, according to a recent opinion of the California Appellate Court, reversing judgment in a case arising out of damages for the death of an 8-year-old child struck down by a motor truck.

This new decision, it is claimed, will modify the opinion heretofore held by many trial courts that it is the duty of the driver of a motor vehicle to exercise extreme care if children happen to be using the same street, although their presence be unknown to the operator.

This decision does not, however, relieve the driver of an automobile of the responsibility of exercising more than ordinary care when driving along a public street where children are known to be playing or when using a street known to be in close proximity to a public school building or crossed by children entering a public school ground, according to George E. Sanford, general attorney of the California Automobile Association, after reviewing the written decision of the District Court of Appeals.

"In the case in question," Sanford said, "the child playing upon a public street ran from in front of an approaching delivery truck and received injuries resulting in death. The father brought suit against the corporation owning the truck and the jury gave a verdict to the father in the amount of $10,000."

"The trial court instructed the jury, substantially, that greater care must be exercised by persons where their actions involve the safety of children; and that what would be proper care when dealing with an adult, might amount to negligence with reference to a child in like circumstances."

"The Appellate Court in reviewing this instruction held it to be erroneous, stating that the effect of instruction given by the trial court was that everyone operating a motor vehicle upon the public streets must use extreme care if children happen to be using the same street, though unknown to the operator. This, the court said, did not properly state the law. It further held that where one is driving an automobile along a public street approaching the point where children are known to be playing or crossing, such as the entrance to a public school building, then greater care might be required."

"In other words, in the absence of children actually playing upon the streets to the knowledge of the driver of an automobile, the mere fact that children might be so playing, unknown to the driver, does not make it his duty to use other than ordinary care in the operation of his automobile."

SIDELIGHTS

Mrs. Eleanor Strasses, of Brooklyn, has set a striking example of wifely devotion. When her husband was jailed for failure to pay alimony to his former wife, Mrs. Strasser pawned her jewelry to pay it aid secure his release.

Hope for homely men who woo fastidious maidens is seen in the case of Shima Kito, a Japanese, of Boston, whose oriental features were objectionable to his fiancée, an American girl. He had a face surgeon correct the slant of his eyes, lower his nose and tighten up his lower lip. The wedding will soon take place.

"Red" Katz, reformed New York convict and gangster, is a candidate for the state legislature in New York state. Of course, one can not expect a former hardened criminal to keep out of bad company.

Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, is quoted as having said that the human race is "little more than a field of wild weeds." In the opinion of some observers, the wildness is increasing, rather than diminishing.

Bandits stole a $60,000 payroll from a Chicago firm, which is now offering another $60,000 for their capture. Perhaps it would be cheaper to put the bandits on the regular payroll.

Automobiles are ruining the baby carriage industry, according to Frank Adams, a New Haven manufacturer, who declares that mothers able to buy his product now prefer to give baby its airing in the family car. Probably within a few years the formerly ubiquitous perambulator will be seen only in museums.

Professor Gilbert of Stanford University declares that the scales of a fish show its approximate age. Strangely enough, they give no intimation of its weight, as might have been more reasonably expected.

From laundress to drunken magician's assistant, then chorus girl, Broadway star, and finally mistress of a happy and palatial home, is the story of a girl's career, just disclosed. You are right in guessing that it is a new novel, which promises to have a wide appeal among girls who have had none of the experiences described.

For the first time in the one hundred and forty-five years of its history, the term "Madame Speaker" was used in the Massachusetts house of representatives the other day, when Speaker Hull temporarily surrendered the gavel to Miss M. Sylvia Donaldson, member of the house from Brockton. Needless to say, Miss Donaldson presided with dignity and grace.

Owen Culp was fined $15 for telling a detective at Luzerne, Pa., to go to a warmer climate. The judge afterward remitted the fine, after reflecting that the detective was not obliged to carry out Culp's suggestion.

TELEPHONE CALL EFFECTS

RESCUE OF EIGHTEEN TOTS

A telephone operator in the Bergen exchange of the New York Telephone Company was largely responsible for the rescue recently of eighteen newly born babies and their mothers from the Salvation Army Maternity hospital in Jersey City. The operator plugged in on her switchboard when the receiver on the telephone in the hospital was lifted. Hearing cries of "Fire!" "Help!" she notified the night chief operator, Miss Catherine B. McCarthy, who helped her summon firemen and police. They arrived in time to carry out sixteen babies and their mothers from the top floor, two babies and their mothers from the second floor, and also the superintendent, who was found unconscious. It was she who had called the telephone alarm on being awakened by smoke.

CAN'T LEGISLATE STATIC

David Sarnoff, vice-president and general manager of the Radio Corporation of America, urges need of a nation-wide system of radio broadcasting, with facilities powerful enough to span the oceans when desired. The exchange of international programs by radio, upon an organized basis, must wait largely upon the creation of a broadcasting system in the United States which can make the voice heard regularly across the Atlantic.

The greatest problems presented by broadcasting, he declares, are beyond the mandate of legislative action. "We can not eliminate static by congressional veto. We can not remove the cow from the track of progress by legislating against the speed of the railroad train."

Since the beginning of 1920 the number of telephones in the city of New Orleans have increased over 65 per cent, jumping from a total of 32,886 stations to over 55,000.

Still, it must be admitted that most of us who knock Jack Dempsey do so only on paper.

One-button union suits will hardly prevent the laundries from ripping off their customers.

HOW IT STARTED

Much discussion regarding the origin of the strenuous dance called the Charleston has been going on, without any authoritative decision on the question.

After reading up on the subject to some extent, we are inclined to accept the following version:

It happened on a South Carolina farm, not far from Charleston. The farmer, armed with a pitchfork and accompanied by a hound dog, caught a young negro in his chicken coop. A jab at the darkey with the pitchfork made him do the first step. A bite from the hound in the seat of his trousers produced the second step. Continued jabs with the pitchfork, alternated with the hound's bites, perfected the dance, which has taken the country by storm.

The next time you see the Charleston danced, watch the movements closely, and you will probably conclude that it could have been evolved in no other way.

FAMILY TRICYCLE BUILT BY ENGLISHMAN

Rather an original idea of J. W. Wood of Highbury, England, who constructed this family tricycle, the carrier being equipped with a detachable roof and side curtains, with a tool bag on the side. The tricycle is twelve feet in length.

EXAMINATION FOR ALL CAR DRIVERS

Those Handling Automobiles Should Prove They Are Well Qualified.

The day is coming when the law will require all persons to pass examinations proving that they are physically and mentally fit to have sufficient knowledge to drive an automobile safely.

Persons who should not be allowed to drive cars include:

- Children below a certain age (usually sixteen).
- Persons whose height does not permit easy reach of the controlling pedals.
- Persons who have not sufficient strength to operate control levers easily and positively.
- Persons under the influence of liquor or drugs.
- Epileptics or others subject to fits or fainting spells.
- Persons who do not know and understand the traffic laws, ordinary rules of the road, and other points concerned with safe and efficient automobile operation.
- Persons with dangerous defective hearing or eyesight.
- Cripples or persons minus arms or legs whose defects interfere with their safe control of an automobile.
- Persons whose nervous structure is not sound or who do not react quickly.

Essential for Safety.

Laws have not yet been passed covering all of these points, but we should bear these things in mind because they are essential for our own safety and the safety of others.

The demands for safety are more stringent than the demands of the law, and rightly so. Laws are primarily to insure justice. A full appreciation of safety saves lives and limbs, no matter who is to blame.

A man may have a mechanically perfect car, but because of careless driving he may cause an accident that results in serious injury or death to himself and others.

A moment or two saved today by reckless speeding is not efficiency, for speeding tomorrow may result in a smash that will lay up the car for several days and you for several months. Hurrying to get ahead of a train, a street car, or another vehicle saves only a moment or two at the ultimate destination and the gain is not worth the price; there is too much danger of accident.

The best drivers are especially careful at dusk or twilight. There is then neither enough daylight nor sufficient artificial light to make objects distinguishable at ordinary distances.

Be Prepared to Stop.

Slow up for all turns in the road. Blind corners are dangerous. When it is impossible to see what is coming from around the corner, be prepared to stop. Sound horn a short distance from the corner.

Don't zig-zag from one side of the street to the other.

When installing chains on the rear wheels, install them on both or none at all. Only one chain may result in a serious accident. Chains on all four wheels help the steering of the car.

There are ruts at the bottom of almost every hill. Hitting these ruts at too high a speed may cause the driver to lose control of his car.

Drive slowly at bridges and at culverts. A bad rut or a stone in the road may throw your car against the structure.

Plan to Etch Initials

on Metal Part of Auto

The car owner may occasionally desire to place his name or initials on some metal part or surface. This is best done by etching, and if it is iron or steel mix one-half an ounce of nitric acid and one ounce of muriatic acid. Shake these well, when they are ready to use. Cover the place to be etched with beeswax melted, and when this is cold write what is desired in the wax, clear down to the metal, using a sharp instrument for the purpose. Now apply the acid mixture with a feather, being careful to fill each letter. Let the acid stand for ten minutes and pour water on it. This stops the etching, and the wax may be removed.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

Huntington Park, Los Angeles county, is now using a "Made in Huntington Park" street marker for boundary lines across the principal streets, forming the pedestrian lanes. The marker, which is a product of the Western Washer Manufacturing company of that city, is a circular steel disc, three inches across and one-quarter of an inch in thickness. In the center of this disc is a hole through which is inserted a three-inch steel pin. This is driven into the paving, forming the lane boundaries.

Chester L. Gorrill, well known farmer of Pacheco valley, Shasta county, has made a liberal donation to the Anderson union high school through the "sale" of two tractors, for $1 each. The tractors were "purchased" for the farm mechanics shop and have proven valuable additions to the mechanical equipment. A regular bill of sale was executed and given to the school by Gorrill, who received besides the $2 involved in the deal, an expression of appreciation from the school for his generosity.

Setting what is believed to be a construction record in southland building circles, a construction company, during the past few weeks set 154 pilings in the Santa Monica beach sands without the aid of a pile-driver. Officials of the company announced recently. The pilings are to serve as a stormproof foundation for the esplanade of the new Gables Beach club now under construction. The esplanade will be completed by May 18.

A study of weather reports for the Palos Verdes estates for the last ten years shows that residents may be certain of at least 355 days of sunshine each year, entire freedom from recurrent wind storms, and absence of frost below the 700-foot level. Records were kept by Dr. Ford Carpenter, meteorologist of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, at eleven different stations on the Palos Verdes project during the years 1914 to 1920.

California was represented at the National Safety Conference at Washington, D. C., by two delegates, Mrs. D. E. F. Easton and Mrs. R. L. Cardiff, of the California Public Safety Conference, who were appointed by Governor Richardson. This organization, in which 270,000 California women are enrolled, is working to make highway conditions safer for motorists. The campaign slogan is "S. O. S.—Safety or Sorrow."

An injunction suit designed to test the right of the state department of agriculture to destroy shrubs and trees in Sacramento to eradicate the citrus white fly, a dangerous fruit pest, has been filed in the Superior Court by Ivor F. Torrey. Torrey, a local homeowner, has asked the court to restrain the state department from destroying a privet hedge and an orange tree on his property.

The new $60,000 plunge at San Fernando, Los Angeles county, to be one of the finest in southern California, is beginning to take form. Excavation for the pool has been completed and the pouring of concrete is well under way. The sum of $4,500 has been expended in white tile, which will ornament the walls and floors of the plunge. The place will be formerly opened by May 1.

Glenn county laid claim to the honor of having the oldest county clerk in point of service in California. He is W. H. Sale, who assumed office in 1891, when the county was formed and has been re-elected regularly ever since. The claimants conceded second place to County Clerk R. L. Carter, of Trinity county, who has been in office since 1893.

Though bread proverbially has been termed "the staff of life," the consumption by the average Californian is scarcely a paltry slice per meal. Statisticians of the state department of agriculture have discovered that the annual per capita ration is seventy-two one-pound loaves, or about one-fifth of a loaf per day.

The members of the First Baptist church, at Redlands, San Bernardino county, have decided to start building the first unit on what will eventually be one of the finest church institutions in the west. The first unit is for a church school building and will cost about $75,000 exclusive of the furnishings.

LEGION'S CHAPLAIN HOLDS D. S. CROSS

Rev. William E. Patrick of Bakersfield, Cal., national chaplain of the American Legion, is one of the few chaplains of the World war who was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry under fire.

Reverend Patrick won the coveted D. S. C. while serving with the Twenty-third Infantry, Second division, in the Meuse-Argonne offensive of November 1 to 11, 1918. The citation awarding him the Distinguished Service Cross reads:

"For extraordinary heroism in action during operations on the Meuse river, France, November 1-11, 1918. Chaplain Patrick searched for wounded, gave them first aid and assisted in their evacuation under heavy machine gun and artillery fire. His firm determination to go wherever he could be of service, disregarding his personal safety, was a constant source of inspiration to all officers and enlisted men of his battalion."

Rev. William E. Patrick.

Reverend Patrick was elected national chaplain of the Legion at the last national convention at Omaha, Neb., and will serve until the Legion convenes at Philadelphia in October.

Chaplain Patrick has a long and distinguished record of Legion service. His advance has been a gradual one. He first served as chaplain of North Andover post, North Andover, Mass., 1919-22. Then he moved to California and was immediately elected chaplain of Ventura County post, holding that office until 1924, when he was elected department chaplain. Finally came the highest honor at Omaha, where his comrades saw fit to elevate him to the national office.

Reverend Patrick was born at Cambridge, Mass., in 1890. He is a Harvard graduate and holds the degree of A. B. from that institution, as well as a B. D. degree from the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge. He was ordained a deacon in 1910, and ordained a priest in 1916. He is at present rector of St. Paul's church at Bakersfield, Cal. He is married and has a son and two daughters.

Consolidation Plan at Legion Headquarters

Consolidation of four divisions and a redistribution of functions of national headquarters of the American Legion at Indianapolis was put in effect following approval by the national executive committee of the consolidation plan suggested by National Adjutant James F. Barton. The object of the plan is greater efficiency and economy.

Under the consolidation, administration and membership and organization divisions become the administration division. Frank E. Samuel, former director of the organization and membership division, will head the administration division in addition to serving as assistant to the national adjutant.

Emblem and film divisions have consolidated under the title of the emblem division. Oakleigh E. Marquette, director of the emblem division, will retain directorship of this division.

The post activities section is consolidated with the community and civic betterment bureau of the national Americanism commission. The name of the bureau will in future be the community service bureau.

A Fitting Punishment

"When was Mr. Blick ostracized from the club?" "It was during the world series." "What was it all about?" "A group of members were discussing that exciting last game, when Blick came in. 'How's the game coming now?' somebody called anxiously. 'The game?' said Blick. 'Oh, it's improving. My approach was rotten yesterday, but I beat Nibbs three up.'"

SET-BACK FOR PEACE

Failure of the Geneva meeting to consummate the provisions of the Locarno peace pact by bringing Germany into the League of Nations, as it was hoped to do, has created another serious situation in Europe.

With representatives of fifty-five nations gathered for the purpose of furthering the purposes of the Locarno agreement, friction of such a serious nature developed that the admission of Germany was postponed.

While details of the disagreement have not been fully explained, it is known that Germany's entry into the League has been delayed through disputes concerning the admission of other nations, particularly Brazil, Rumania and Poland. After a week of squabbling over the issues involved, it was finally decided that Germany should not be admitted to the League until next September. Whether she will ever become a member appears to be in doubt.

Blame for the failure of the meeting to carry out its purposes is being charged to one nation and another. It is evident that the cause of European concord has suffered a shock which may injure the prestige of the League as a working instrument for permanent peace.

HOT STUFF

A rather clever story is going the rounds concerning the municipal band of Palm Beach, Florida. Just how true it is we can not vouch, but we pass it along for what it is worth.

Last year while the band was playing "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," the Breakers Hotel took fire and burned to the ground.

A few days ago at Orlando the band struck up "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and a $25,000 warehouse a block away went up in smoke.

Next day at Lake Eola, while the band poured forth the strains of "Red Hot Mama," fire broke out in a private hospital just across the lake.

Fire Chief Alfred Sadler has now warned the leader to refrain from playing any more musical hot stuff.

ANOTHER FREAK BILL

Congressman Parks, of Arkansas, has introduced a bill which would prohibit ambassadors or cabinet officers for writing for publication and profit anything containing information which they might have obtained through their occupancy of such public offices.

Just what inspired Mr. Parks to offer such a bill is not clear. Certainly it would infringe upon the liberty of an American citizen in a most unwarranted manner, besides it would doubtless in many cases deprive the public of information of great value.

Statesman of all countries and in all ages have written of the events in which they played a part, and some of these writings are among the most illuminating of the world's historical documents. Others, it is true, are devoted mainly to a glorification of the writers, but even these give the thoughtful reader a better insight into the significance of the times with which they deal.

The author of this freak bill is probably a poor writer, who never expects to be an ambassador or a cabinet officer.

BOON TO WOMEN

At the opening of a free electrical exposition sponsored by the Birmingham News recently, some facts were presented in an address by M. A. Aylesworth, managing director of the National Electric Light Association, which are of particular interest to women, especially farm women.

Mr. Aylesworth declared that electricity is relieving the women of America of much of their former drudgery, and that this benefit is rapidly being extended to the rural districts, whereby farm women will be enabled to retain their youth and health, instead of being broken down at an early age.

Stating that electrical washing machines, vacuum cleaners and other home appliances can be operated for three to five cents an hour, he said: "The time has arrived when our wives and mothers must no longer be permitted to sell their time at coolie wages of three cents an hour, having to neglect the highest work entrusted to human beings, the work of motherhood."

Among the notable advances which will be witnessed by the next generation, none will be of greater benefit to humanity than the emancipation of women from lives of drudgery, through the application of electricity to the work of the home.

BIG POULTRY POOL

After a year spent in educational and organization work, there is now being launched in Saskatchewan province, Canada, a great poultry pool, with 9,500 members, owning nearly nine million hens and other fowls, for co-operative marketing.

Mrs. J. Holmes is president of the organization, which will ship a large portion of its products to eastern Canadian and British markets. Members of the pool have signed binding contracts, which it is believed will insure faithful delivery of products and genuine co-operation through business-like methods.

Like all well managed organizations of a similar nature, the new pool will stress the necessity for high quality of production, proper grading and intelligent distribution.

Co-operative marketing is making much headway, both in Canada and in the United States, and while some set-backs and discouraging experiences have been met here and there, it seems that the principles underlying the movement are entirely sound and capable of being developed into a truly beneficial system, for producer and consumer alike.

FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE

The first transcontinental telephone line was established from New York to San Francisco only eleven years ago, by way of Chicago and Denver.

A second transcontinental line has recently been completed from Los Angeles through Texas to New Orleans, with lateral lines connecting at San Francisco with the first continental line; from El Paso to Denver and from Fort Worth to Chicago, as well as the existing lines from New Orleans north.

To think that the telephone was unknown but fifty years ago is almost inconceivable. Its phenomenal growth has been due to its practical usefulness and the fact that its officials have always been men of the highest ability.

A MODEST VICTOR

Jean Borotra of France defeated William J. Tilden of the U. S. A., for seven years undisputed tennis champion of the world, a few days ago. Jean might have been pardoned for bragging a bit about such an accomplishment, but did he?

He did not. When asked whether he expects to beat Tilden in the Davis cup competition next summer, Jean Borotra said:

"It is foolish to think so. When I defeated Tilden the other day he was off his stroke. You can well imagine that such a thing will not happen again in the matches next week or in the Davis cup play. I think I am due for a licking when I play Tilden again."

Borotra is declared to be the most popular player among lovers of tennis —which is not hard to understand in view of his unusual skill and his still more unusual modesty.

Washington never told a lie, they say. Well, if Martha believed that, why should we worry?

NOTICE OF THE FILING OF STREET ASSESSMENT AND OF TIME AND PLACE OF HEARING.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, that the Superintendent of Streets of said City heretofore and on to-wit: the 18th day of March, 1926, filed in the office of and with the undersigned Clerk a certain assessment and diagram to cover the sum due and incidental expenses for the work and improvement done and made by Eaton and Smith in said City under and in pursuance of its contract therewith with said Superintendent of Streets, which work and improvement is that certain Resolution of Intention No. 31, passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of said City, July 13, 1925, to which reference is made for description thereof and description of the district to be assessed and said assessment being made and filed pursuant to the provisions of the "Improvement Act of 1911," and the said Resolution of Intention:

Said assessment shows the amount to be paid pursuant to said contract for the work contracted for and performed, together with all incidental expenses, the district to be assessed for said work, the amount of the area of each lot or parcel of land assessed, and the amount of each assessment against each lot or parcel of land assessed, exhibiting the district of land assessed, and each street and street crossing lane, alley, place or court, property or right of way, on which the work has been done, and shows the relative location of each lot or portion of lot, to the work done, numbered to correspond with the numbers of the assessment.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that Tuesday, the 13th day of April, 1926, at the hour of 8 o'clock P. M. of said day and the Council Chamber of the Board of Trustees of said City, in the City Hall of said City, is the time and place fixed by the Board of Trustees for the hearing of said assessment and all protests against and appeals from the same, when and where all persons interested in said assessment, the property assessed or work done, may appear and be heard in regard thereto.

The owners, the contractor, or his assigns, and all other persons interested in said work or in the assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the Superintendent of Streets or City Engineer in relation thereto or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or who claim that any portion of the work for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the contract for the same, or having or making any objection to the correctness of the assessment, the diagram or other act, determination or proceedings of the Superintendent of Streets, or City Engineer, shall prior to the day herein fixed for said hearing appeal to the Board of Trustees of said City by briefly stating in writing the grounds of appeal.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided by the Improvement bond act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature nine years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEES' SALE UNDER DEED OF TRUST.

WHEREAS, CHARLES GUST AND ANASTASSIA GUST, his wife, did heretofore make, execute and deliver a certain deed of trust, bearing date the thirty-first day of October, 1924, conveying to GEO. M. MITCHELL and JOHN HENDERSON, as trustees, certain real property, hereinafter and in said deed of trust particularly described, for the benefit of and to secure the payment to HOME MUTUAL DEPOSIT-LOAN COMPANY, a corporation, of the principal and interest of a certain promissory note or loan agreement, also bearing date of October 31, 1924, payable to said Home Mutual Deposit-Loan Company, which said deed of trust was recorded on the 5th day of November, 1924, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of San Mateo, State of California, in Volume 137 of Official Records, at page 83; the facts of which are set forth in the deed of trust, and

Whereas, on the 16th day of December, 1925, said Home Mutual Deposit-Loan Company recorded a notice of default and election to sell under said deed of trust, in Volume 209 of Official Records, at page 27, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of San Mateo, State of California; and

Whereas, said Home Mutual Deposit-Loan Company has made demand upon the undersigned, Geo. M. Mitchell and John Henderson, under the power and authority conferred upon them as trustees under said deed of trust, to sell the real property therein and hereinafter particularly described, to satisfy said indebtedness;

Now, therefore, in accordance with the terms and conditions and under the authority of said deed of trust, and in pursuance of a resolution passed and adopted on the 8th day of December, 1925, by the Board of Directors of said Home Mutual Deposit-Loan Company, the owner and holder of the promissory note or loan agreement, hereinafter referred to, declaring that default in the payment of principal and interest on said promissory note or loan agreement has been made and requesting and directing said Geo. M. Mitchell and John Henderson, as trustees, under the power and authority conferred upon them by said deed of trust, and in pursuance of said resolution, to sell said real property described in said deed of trust and hereinafter particularly described, to satisfy said indebtedness, the undersigned, Geo. M. Mitchell and John Henderson, do hereby give notice that, on TUESDAY, the 13th day of April, 1926, at the hour of ten o'clock a. m. of said day, at the office of Home Mutual Deposit-Loan Company, No. 282 Bush Street, in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, they will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash in gold coin of the United States, all that certain real property, with improvements thereon, situate, lying and being in the Town of Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, and described as follows:

Lot Numbered Five (5), in Block Lettered "77," as shown on that certain map entitled "Map showing subdivision of the property of the Mission Street Land Co., situated in San Francisco and San Mateo Cos., Cal.," filed in the office of the County Recorder of San Mateo County July 31, 1895, in Book 127 or Original Maps, at page 73, and copied into Book 2 of Maps, at page 73.

Terms of Sale: Cash, ten (10) per cent payable to the undersigned at the fall of the hammer, balance upon delivery of deed, and if not so paid, unless for want of title, ten (10) days being allowed for search, the said ten per cent to be forfeited and the sale to be void.

Dated, San Francisco, California, March 18, 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barsi and son Nello, of Vale street, motored to Santa Cruz last Sunday.

The first picnic of the season will soon be held in Lovchen Gardens, to be sponsored by the Marconi Nest.

Clarence Edwards, of San Francisco, spent several days of the Easter vacation with Bennie Haubrich of Mission street.

Miss Iva Garcia has been absent from her position with the Pioneer Tire and Truck Company, on San Pedro avenue, because of illness.

A meeting of La Fiesta Social Club will be held at the home of Miss Margaret Varni, in the Excelsior district, on Friday evening of next week.

Mrs. B. W. Haubrich, Mrs. N. G. de Ramirez, Mrs. Stephen V. Fischer, Misses Louise Merlo and Alma Ramirez spent last Monday at Salada Beach.

Little Louise Martini, of Castle street, was run down and severely injured by a machine near Lovchen Gardens last Sunday, but is now recovering.

Olive Grove No. 116, United Ancient Order of Druids, will hold nomination and election of officers in Jefferson Hall, on San Pedro avenue, Friday evening of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrado Bertini, who resided on Price street until recently, are building a six room home in San Carlos. Carl Schwarz will do the painting and decorating.

Mrs. E. Bergmann, Miss Eleanor Bergmann and Clarence Edwards, of San Francisco, were luncheon guests of Mrs. B. W. Haubrich, of Mission street, on Thursday of this week.

J. T. Casey, of Mission street, sustained a sprained foot as a result of an accident while horseback riding, his horse falling and Mr. Casey coming out of the mixup with a sprained foot.

The members of La Fiesta Social Club have planned a theatre party at the President Theatre in San Francisco for Tuesday evening of next week. "U Don't Understand" is the comedy now playing at the President.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Callan purchased a beautiful home on Cortez avenue in Burlingame recently. Carl Schwarz has been working with a crew of five men for the past two weeks painting and redecorating the building.

Don't fail to attend the whist party and dance to be given by the members of the Colma Volunteer Fire Department on Saturday evening, April 10, under the direction of Harold Varni. Ray Batz and his Pompeian orchestra will provide syncopation.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Jones entertained a number of friends at a delightful dinner party at their home on First avenue last Thursday evening. Among those who enjoyed their hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. A. Lowans, of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Callan, Misses Louise Sili-cani and Gladys Callan, Jack and Robert Callan of Werner avenue.

Be sure to attend the big whist party and dance to be given for the benefit of the Colma Community Center at the Center on Dunk street on Saturday evening, April 4. Ray Batz and his Pompeian orchestra will provide the jazzy dance music for this occasion.

Georgie Olmo, of Market street, is some rough rider. He is the proud possessor of a handsome bay saddle horse and has proven his ability to ride the wildest in town. J. T. Casey has purchased a black saddle horse, and riding seems to be quite popular among local people lately.

Harold Varni is in charge of the big whist party and dance to be sponsored by the Colma Volunteer Fire Department on Saturday evening, April 10. Ray Batz and his famous Pompeian orchestra have been engaged to play for the dancing. Attend and boost your home town firemen.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. Martinelli tendered the latter a stork shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louise Merlo, of the Olcese apartments, Tuesday evening of last week. The gifts were many and beautiful, among them being a handsome baby buggy. There were thirty-four present at the affair.

Emilio Varni passed away at his home in Colma on Wednesday, at the age of 42, following a short illness. Mr. Varni was born in Italy and came to California twenty-two years ago. He was a carpenter and a member of Court Colma No. 83, F. of A. He is survived by his widow, Leona O'Brien Varni; a son, James; a daughter, Genevieve; his father and mother, Dominis and Celestin Varni, of Italy; two sisters, Mrs. Katherina Perino, of Merced, and Mary Varni; and a brother, James, of Italy.

BIG BROKERAGE BUSINESS IS DONE OVER TELEPHONE

Wall Street reports that more business is being done over the telephone than ever before in the history of the financial district.

In the past, brokerage houses have usually been crowded, with every available seat taken, when the market was having an active season, and at such times it was almost impossible to approach the tickers. This has not been the case, however, during the past few months, in spite of the fact that many brokerage houses are doing the biggest business in their history. Clients, however, are not hanging around brokerage offices as in the past, because they are doing most of their business now over the telephone.

TWO FACTORIES A WEEK FOR EAST BAY SECTION

Two new industries a week in 1924, more than that in 1925. So runs the record of the swift advance of the great east bay industrial district of which Oakland is the center. In 1924 the district attracted 105 new industrial plants. In 1925 the number was 122.

Today, according to a survey by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, east bay industrial district has 1,055 manufacturing plants. These plants employ 42,190 men and women and have an annual payroll of more than $57,000,000. Last year their products had a total value of $337,909,692.

The same survey shows that the industries of the east bay district include 110 plants of famous Eastern manufacturing organizations.

In the total of 1,055 industries there are no warehouses, no terminals, no lumber companies, no wholesalers or jobbers, no ship repair yards, no public service corporations. It does not even include the Alaska Packing Company, one of the largest of east bay industries. It is solely a list of factories, many of them of great magnitude.

COMPETITION MAY CUT FERRY AUTOMOBILE RATE

Increased competition by the inauguration of a Tiburon-San Francisco automobile ferry probably would lower the rates of the Golden Gate Ferry Company in its San Francisco Sausalito service. This statement was made Wednesday by Harry E. Speas, vice-president and general manager of the Golden Gate Ferry Company. It was his answer to a previous assertion by Henry G. Mathewson, secretary of the Railroad Commission, that the Golden Gate system would have to materially increase its tariff in the event that the Northwestern Pacific decided to start the new service.

INJURED WHILE ON WAY TO VIEW BODY OF BROTHER

While on his way to San Mateo to view the body of his brother, killed in a collision, Robert Mann, aged 21, of Redwood City, was seriously injured early Tuesday in an automobile crash on the county highway near Beresford. As a result of the accident, Arthur C. Wilson, automobile accessory dealer of Burlingame, was placed in the San Mateo jail, accused of being a hit and run driver. Wilson denies being the man whose car is said to have caused the damage.

TWO YOUTHS IN JACKLING PLOT ARE TO BE PAROLED

Bliss Baker and Russell Crawford, students of criminology, who figured in a plot to kidnap Mrs. D. C. Jackling on the highway at San Bruno last year, will be released from San Quentin prison in six months, providing their good behavior continues.

The mandate of the prison board was that the youths be incarcerated for a term of three years, with the proviso that they be paroled after serving one year. They have already served six months.

In a threatening letter to D. C.

Jackling, San Francisco millionaire, the youths had stated that they would murder Mrs. Jackling, whom they had lured down the peninsula, unless the sum of $50,000 was paid to them.

The First Message

"MR. WATSON, come here; I want you!" exclaimed Alexander Graham Bell on March 10, 1876, during an afternoon of experimentation, and over a wire connecting two rooms, the young assistant heard the words, — the first spoken sentence to be so transmitted.

Fifty years have passed. Today there are 17,000,000 telephones in the United States, giving voice to human need, as Bell's crude transmitter did then. Fire breaks out in the night; law-breakers invade a home; sickness strikes at a family circle. "Come here, I want you," is the summons, and the telephone speeds it on the way. Business of importance demands the decision of one who is on the far side of the continent. "Come here, I want you," is the summons again, and as if by magic, a personality is projected through space, questions are asked, answers given, problems solved—by telephone.

Every telephone call is an echo of the first message. For whether it is the physical presence or the listening ear that is desired, the impulse that lifts the telephone receiver is, "I want you."

RADIO

A Simplified Three-Tube Circuit Designed for Ease of Construction, Operation and Superb Tonal Quality. Honeycomb Coils Used for Tuning.

By BRAINARD FOOTE

In Radio World.

Listeners who prefer moderate volume, combined with almost perfect reproduction, will be interested in the simple entertainment receiver to be described. The faithfulness of its tone output is dependent upon the system of audio frequency amplification, which, in this set, is a combination of a stage of impedance-coupled amplification and a stage of resistance-coupled amplification.

In addition, the use of the half-ampere power tube is considered in the last stage. Since this tube requires about 135 volts of "B" battery, the use of resistance coupling calls for no additional plate voltage. Impedance coupling is adopted for the first stage since this provides superior detector action and greater detector output. Moreover, with a good impedance coil for the first stage, the quality is good. A honeycomb system of tuning is shown, with a primary coil made unnecessary by the expedient of employing a small fixed condenser as the coupling medium. Thus the assembly of the outfit is not difficult. The output of volume is not so great as can be obtained by the use of more tubes and more audio amplification, but on this very account its tone qualities are better and its operation more pleasing.

Will Operate Loud Speaker.

A receiver of this character will operate a good loud speaker, either of the horn or cone type, to advantage. In the symbolic diagram C3 is the coupling condenser whereby the energy picked up by the antenna is delivered to the set. L1 and C1 form the tuned circuit of the set, L1 being a 50-turn honeycomb coil and C1 a .0005 mfd. variable condenser. Regeneration is handled by the "shunt" plate circuit L2 and C2, L2 being another 50-turn coil and C2 another .0005 mfd. variable condenser. The two coils are mounted by means of two honeycomb coil mounts. They should be as far apart as possible, so long as sufficient regeneration is to be had on the longest waves.

G forms the combination grid and leak and condenser, a .00025 mfd. condenser and 2-megohm leak. T1 and T2 are two 6A type tubes, whereas T3 is a power tube of the 112 type, taking 1/2 ampere at 5 volts. L3 is the coupling impedance for the first stage. It may be a special impedance coil made for the purpose, or, with as good results, the secondary winding of a large-sized audio transformer. This stipulation is made to insure the use of an impedance coil having enough turns of wire and core iron to pass all the audio frequencies.

C4 is the coupling condenser for the first stage. A condenser as small as .002 mfd. will answer fairly well here, but better results are obtained both as to volume and range of musical tones if the condenser is made at .01 mfd. or even up to 0.5 mfd. A grid leak resistance R1 of 1 megohm or 1/2 megohm is required to properly bias the grid of tube T2 and to prevent it from becoming choked with negative impulses. Instead of the impedance just described, a coupling resistance is adopted for the second stage, since this is even better than an impedance when it comes to passing all the musical frequencies.

Power Stage.

Resistance R2 should be approximately 100,000 ohms (0.1 megohm). Such resistances can be purchased in the form of an ordinary grid leak and all the essential resistances may be snapped into regular resistance clip-holders. These holders, which come with the resistances R2, should be well made in order that the heating effect of the "B" battery current that must pass through it may not alter its resistance and cause noises or distortion. Condenser C5 is just like C4. The grid leak R3 should have a resistance of about 1/4 megohm (250,000 ohms) to properly bias the last tube and prevent overloading or choking.

Tube T3 is a 1/2 ampere power tube, used because its greater power will result in somewhat greater volume of output and a very marked gain in tone quality, since overloading is eliminated. A jack is provided for the loud speaker connection, the loud speaker LS being indicated at this point.

Now for a few remarks about the battery and filament circuits. Rheostat R1 takes care of lighting the detector and first stage tubes T1 and T2, while rheostat R2 handles the power tube. A snap switch S, located at the left end of the panel, serves to turn the set on and off. Thus the rheostats may be maintained at the proper points permanently.

A 4 1/2 volt "C" battery is employed, as indicated. Three 45-volt "B" units are required.

FOREFATHERS OF RADIO

By GEORGE LEWIS
of The Crosley Radio Corporation.

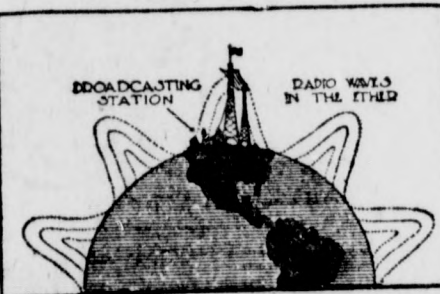

The beginnings of radio may be traced back to the scientific work of James Clerk Maxwell, the celebrated British physicist. Maxwell was born at Edinburgh, Scotland, and conducted his brilliant researches at a comparatively young age, dying at Cambridge, England, when but forty-eight years old.

He believed that light was due to waves in an invisible medium which scientists call "ether." He believed, further, that light was some kind of an electromagnetic phenomenon. It was these ideas of Maxwell's that led Hertz later to the discoveries that made radio possible.

James Clerk Maxwell.

If Maxwell were right in his assumption that light was both a wave motion and electromagnetic in nature, the scientists could expect any vibrating electric current to send out waves of some kind, just as a vibrating violin string sends out sound waves. Maxwell's work was first published in 1873, but it remained for Hertz to establish experimental proof of his theories some fifteen years later.

Maxwell's Theory of Electromagnetic Wave.

referred to as the great authority which has inspired modern ideas of electricity. Radio scientists have Maxwell to thank for first having opened the door to the developments that have led to the modern science and art of radio.

Hints on How to Adjust Your Regenerative Set

If the set accidentally breaks into oscillation, turn back the regeneration control at once.

Use both hands, one hand for the regeneration control and the other hand for the tuning control.

Practice on tuning powerful stations first and do not try to pick up weak, distant stations until becoming expert.

Do not force regeneration in an attempt to obtain loud-speaker volume from a set not designed for the purpose.

Never force regeneration in an attempt to hear stations beyond the range of the set; be content with those that can really be heard.

Keep the regeneration control at ways just below the point of oscillation; the set is then in the most sensitive condition. This is the reason for using two hands for tuning.

Do not try to find a station by the whistle. If the set is tuned just below the whistling point, the signals will come in clear and the regeneration control can then be tuned a little

MEANING OF REVEN-SAW

In the town of Reven-Saw everything had been quite topsy-turvy for weeks and even months.

In fact the town was often called Topsy Turvy Reven-Saw. The parents had all decided that they were tired of being parents and the children had all decided they were tired of being children.

So they had changed places! The parents had gone to school and the children who were the new parents had looked after the details of business and home.

There had been many strange happenings as you can well imagine in such a topsy-turvy place and with such changes.

It was curious, too, that the new parents made the same speeches that the usual parents had made. They had heard themselves telling a child who was being foolish that no one was laughing at her being so silly—just as they had had said to themselves so recently.

After the big exercises in the school were over and the holidays were to begin and the relatives were due to arrive the new parents wondered if they had not had almost enough of being parents.

It seemed, they thought, impossible to change parents. They were just like the old-time parents themselves. The minute one became a parent—well, one became a parent.

Here they had been worrying about their children when they had stayed out late, scolding them about their practicing, wanting them to do their best and take the lead in everything, punishing them when they did not do right. And not only that.

They had so much responsibility! Responsibility to keep the shops going among many other things. Whatever would have happened without the unmarried assistants would have been too difficult to even think about.

They found it so hard to stay in offices all day.

The little Daddies and Mothers were beginning to see that children just couldn't help but be children when they were—well, children. They had shown that themselves when they had become children.

And as they all began thinking this way they talked it over once more and all decided that they would take back their old places again.

The Mothers and Daddies would be the parents once more, and the real children who had taken the places of parents would be children again.

It was just as easy to change back as it had been to change in the first place.

In fact it was easier, for everyone in changing back to the old positions slipped into such familiar places.

But all agreed that it had been an interesting experiment and well worth trying. They would from this time on understand each other a little better.

Of course you must remember that all this took place in the town of Reven-Saw.

And if you doubt this story just spell the name of the town backwards, beginning with Reven and thence with Saw, and this is the end of their strange adventures.

Grandpa Won Easily

Grandfather had a keen idea of "little things that start big wars." Therefore, when mother came into the room to find John, aged three, scattering tiny scraps of paper on the rug his first thought was to avert the threatening stormcloud which he saw gathering on mother's brow.

"Come, John," he said, nimbly dropping to his knees on the floor, "let's have a race and see who can pick up the most scraps."

John observed these agile scramblings for a few seconds, then, stretching out two chubby arms yawningly exclaimed: "All right, grandpa, you win!"

WOMEN FIGHT POWERFUL FOE

Struggle Against Ill Health

Find a Faithful Ally in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MRS. ADOLPH HANSEN
HOLMQUIST, SOUTH DAKOTA

Holmquist, South Dakota.—"I can not begin to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was sick for about four years. I could not sleep, and I was always worrying, so one day we saw your advertisement in a paper, and I made up my mind to try the Vegetable Compound. I bought one bottle and did not see any change, so I got another bottle.

At the second bottle I began to feel better and I have used the Vegetable Compound ever since, whenever I feel badly. I recommend it and I will answer any letters asking about it."—Mrs. ADOLPH HANSEN, Holmquist, South Dakota.

Could Work Only Two Hours

Encanto, Calif.—"I bless the day I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was so weak and tired all the time I could not work more than two hours each day, then had to go to bed for the rest of the day. I read so much about the Vegetable Compound and I was so weak that I decided to try it. I now do my own housework—washing, scrubbing, and ironing—and then help my husband with his garden. I do not have that worn-out feeling now. I advise every woman to give your wonderful medicine a trial, and I will answer any letters I receive from women asking about it."—Mrs. STELLA LAY, 709 Jamaica Road, Encanto, Calif.

A woman who is fighting for her health and her family's happiness is a valiant soldier. She wages her battle in her own kitchen. She has no thrilling bugles to cheer her on, no waving banners.

If you are fighting this battle, let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound be your ally, too.

Diver's Explorations

Depths greater than 200 feet have been reached by divers. Chief Gunner's Mate Frank Crilley, U. S. N., broke the record when he attained a record of 288 feet to locate the sunken submarine F-4 in Honolulu harbor. Thirty-five fathoms, equal to a pressure of about 100 pounds, is regarded as the average depth for divers of experience and good physique.

Seek to Rout Pneumonia

Physicians are now studying diligently new serums by which it is hoped to reduce the pneumonia death rate considerably. It is estimated by conservative medical statisticians that in the United States annually 140,000 persons die directly and indirectly from the disease. Heart disease continues, however, to be the principal cause of death.

Heard of but Never Seen
An Indian was arrested for bootlegging among his red friends. The sheriff gave him a sound lecture on the unlawfulness of the act, to which he listened stolidly and then inquired: "No way Injun can get out of this?" "No one can help you now but God," was the reply.

"Huh!" grunted the prisoner. "God heap like Uncle Sam; Injun never see Him."—Boston Transcript.

When Hanging Mirror
To hang a mirror flat against the wall, the screws should be attached as near to the top of the frame as possible. The higher the screws are the closer the mirror will be to the wall. Sometimes it is possible to fasten the screws to the top edge and this proves the most satisfactory.

Under old logs, even in winter, you may find centipedes that have but one pair of legs to each body segment and millipedes with two pairs to each segment, says Nature Magazine. The members of one of these groups generally eat plant material, and of the other, animal material.

Young vigor to old folks

"Five years of poor health followed by influenza and pleurisy left me too weak to walk. I thought my time had come. My niece recommended Tanlac. It added years to my life; I feel young and vigorous again."
Mrs. Sarah A. Vose,
63 Wells St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

One of Tanlac's greatest blessings is the new life and vigor it brings to old folks. Every day men and women up in the seventies and eighties thank us for Tanlac's wondrous benefits.

Tanalac is a natural tonic, made from roots, barks and rare herbs. Harmless to man or child. It cleans the blood, stirs up the liver and puts digestive organs in working order.

If your body is weak and run-down, if you lack ambition, can't eat or sleep, you'll be delighted with Tanlac's results. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation.

No Artist Can Escape Responsibility in Choice of His Subjects

By DAVID KINLEY, President University of Illinois.

SOME artists insist that they are not concerned with, and have no responsibility for, the subjects which they choose on which to exercise their technical skill. They deny that they need care what influence on morals, religion, or any other phase of life, their work may exert through the choice of an evil subject, provided only their work is technically perfect. That doctrine I challenge.

Since all art, whether letters, sculpture, painting, is expression of nature, every artistic production, if true in what it presents or in its way of presentation, has some merit and help for men. But when a great thought is greatly expressed, then we have a great artistic production.

If an artist in any line insists that his technical skill justified him in the constant selection of degrading subjects on which to exercise it and through which to express it, I say that he is doing a wrong to himself, to his art and to his fellow men.

No artist can escape responsibility to civilization, if you like, in the choice of subjects through which to express his technique. It rests with him to make the world better, or to make it worse. Like every other individual, he has an obligation and responsibility to the society of which he is a part. The man who cannot express his fine technique on subjects that are good, and just, and right, and high, and noble, but who must constantly find rotten topics, chooses because he has a rotten heart and a depraved mind. This is as true in literature as it is in sculpture, and, unfortunately, it is in literature that, in these days, we are finding the widest and most infernal manifestation of this spirit and point of view.

Generally speaking, it is only when the finest technique is used in the expression of the finest topic that we find the artist whose product endures through the centuries, the inspiration and the model of the ages.

Balance Is What We Need in Diet, in Thought and in Life in General

By DR. RUTH WHEELER, University of Iowa.

Tradition says that our early ancestors had excellent dietetic sense. When they ate meat they ate practically the whole animal. In the same manner they made use of edible plants, eating seeds and leaves and all they could of stem and root. Civilization has changed all that. In the next stage both plants and animals were cultivated in order to develop particular parts to our liking; to secure succulent leaves, large seeds, big and tender roots.

But food at best is only one of many factors that make up a satisfactory equipment for life, and can best be utilized only when all the others are present; water, inside and out, exercise and rest properly balanced for muscle and nerve, for all organs and functions; air and sunlight and a wholesome mental and spiritual life are all equally indispensable.

Every year we realize a little more clearly how everything works together. Sunlight as well as oxygen and water is carried to all tissues and is necessary for many if not all functions. Balance is what we need; in diet, in thought and in life in general.

Credit Is Based on Confidence and Confidence Is Based on Character

By DAVID R. FORGAN, Chicago Banker.

Credit, not gold, is the life blood of business. Something like 95 per cent of all business transactions in a well-organized community involve credit in some way or another.

Credit starts enterprises, mills, railways, wages wars, makes civilization. It is a kind of element closely akin to water. In the sea of credit there are already afloat innumerable credit vessels. All stocks and bonds, all national and international debts, all accounts receivable or payable on all the ledgers in the world, and nearly all of what is called money may be considered various credit vessels afloat in this great sea.

Credit unites all civilized countries by unseen but very real cords of interest and mutual confidence. Every transaction of credit involves confidence of one man or set of men in other men or sets of men. This confidence is based on character and no modern business can be permanently successful that is not built on a foundation of character.

America Has Better Banking Facilities Than the British Public

By ARTHUR KITSON, in London Outlook.

There was a time when the average Englishman thanked God that he was not as those poor, trust-ridden Americans. . . . In spite of our free-trade system this country is plastered all over with trusts, and, as in the case of America, the greatest trust of all is the banking monopoly. In this respect we are in a far worse plight than the Americans. Although the banking business is dominated in America by a few individuals, there are some hundreds of independent banks whose object it is to assist the farmers and small traders. The United States is furnished with far better banking facilities than the British public. Where we have one bank to every 5,000 of our population the Americans have one to every 1,500. Moreover, their banks are not as ours, i. e., branches of five or six parent companies. Recent amalgamations have brought the banking business in this country under the control of about two dozen individuals who are able to make or break nine-tenths of the business men of this country merely by extending or refusing facilities.

Cannot Keep One Conscience for Home and Another for Public Life

By REV. G. A. STUDDERT KENNEDY, "Woodbine Willie."

If you are going to have free speech, you must have it with all its dangers and responsibilities. The parson must think and pray that the will of God is for man, and he must blaze it out as he sees it. Once he has done that, the responsibility rests with those who listen; they must choose whether they will hear or whether they will forbear. But you cannot have it both ways. You cannot blame the church when the world goes wrong, and curse it when it tries to lead the world right. If moral principles have nothing to do with politics, then wars must continue at home and abroad, with all their waste and bitter wrong. If moral principles are to be the basis of politics, then you cannot keep religion out. You cannot split life up into departments and keep one conscience for home and another for public life. Christian conscience runs the whole way or it does not run at all.

A Career of Contradictions

THE career of Capt. John Phillips as a pirate was a short one—it lasted only nine months—but it was one filled with many queer contradictions. A carpenter by trade, Phillips sailed from England for Newfoundland in 1723 in a ship that was captured by the noted pirate leader, Captain Anstis in his ship the Good Fortune. Anstis forced Phillips to become his ship's carpenter.

After leaving Anstis Phillips worked for a while in a cod fishery in Newfoundland. Then one night, he with four others, stole a vessel from Peter harbor and sailed away, with Phillips as captain. Articles of agreement were drawn up among the crew which he soon collected and, in the absence of a Bible on board the ship, these articles were sworn to upon a hatchet! Among these articles were these two curious ones: "There shall be 40 stripes lacking one, known as Moses law, inflicted for striking a fellow-pirate" and "If at any time you meet with a prudent woman, that Man that offers to meddle with her, without her Consent, shall suffer present Death."

The pirates were successful almost from the start. They captured several fishing boats and in one of them found an ex-pirate named John Rose Archer, who had served his apprenticeship under the notorious Blackbeard and who they at once promoted to quartermaster. They next sailed to Barbados, but their luck was poor.

At last when they were almost starving they sighted a big French ship, much larger and better armed than their vessel, but so terrified was the French crew when Phillips's men hoisted the black flag that they surrendered without firing a shot. As time went on and Phillips continued to be successful, he became even more desperate and bloodthirsty, often butchering his prisoners without any provocation. Occasionally he did have a "quail of conscience come athwart his stomach," as one chronicler quaintly records it, and on one occasion when he had captured a Newfoundland vessel and prepared to scuttle it, he desisted because he found that it belonged to a Mr. Minors. Phillips had stolen his first vessel from Minors. "We have done him enough injury already," he said and returned the ship to its owner.

Although this pirate captured no less than 30 ships and a vast amount of loot in the nine months of his career, it ended in disaster at last. His crew mutinied in April, 1724, off the coast of Newfoundland, where his first act of piracy had been committed, seized Phillips and threw him overboard.

The Pirate Hero of a Novel

ALTHOUGH Capt. John Gow, alias Smith, alias Goffe, had the honor of having an account of his piratical career written by Defoe and ninety years later, as "Captain Cleveland," he was made the hero of a novel by Sir Walter Scott, there was in reality little in his life to justify so much attention. The principal interest lies in the incidents connected with his trial and execution because they show that society 200 years ago was often fully as brutal and cruel in punishment as were the pirates themselves.

Gow's career of piracy began with the usual mutiny and he, the second mate, was chosen leader by the mutineers after they had murdered the officers of their ship, the George. Next they renamed the vessel, the Revenge—a favorite name for a pirate ship, it seems—and began a cruise off the coast of Spain, but plundering the shipping of their own country, England, and of Gow's native Scotland.

Then they sailed for Madeira where Gow established friendly relations with the governor by presenting him with a box of Scotch herring. Their next port of call was the Orkney Islands where they sold most of the cargoes of the ships they had robbed. At Carristown Gow landed his men and began plundering the houses of the gentry, after which, in a spirit of bravado, he marched back to his ship with a baggage leading the parade.

After a series of raids along the Scottish coast, Gow and his men were finally captured by his aroused countrymen and taken to London on the British frigate Greyhound for trial. The trial opened at the famous Newgate prison on May 8, 1725. Gow was sullen in behavior and refused to enter any plea, so it was ordered that he be "pressed," the only form of torture allowed at that time. This consisted of chaining the criminal down upon a floor with arms and legs outspread. Weights were then piled upon him until he consented to "plead." If not, he was "pressed" to death.

At the last moment the pirate leader yielded and entered a plea of not guilty. He was found guilty, however, and hanged on June 11. An old chronicle gives the following naive account of the manner of his dying: "As he was turned off, he fell down from the gibbet, the rope breaking by the weight of some that pulled his leg. Although he had been hanging for four minutes, he was able to climb up the ladder a second time, which seemed to concern him very little, and he was hanged again. His body was then taken to Greenwich and there hanged in chains to warn others."

Scientist Working to Find Weight of Earth

An American scientist, seeking to weigh the earth as accurately as possible, has set up apparatus in a cell about thirty-five feet underground and has been at work at odd times for nearly a year. It probably will be many weeks before he completes his work. For his apparatus, he has an instrument resembling a small pile driver with many odd-appearing appendances. In a general way he has set up a miniature system representing the earth, and is attempting to determine the force of attraction between this system and the earth. By the law of proportion he will decide how much the earth weighs. Just how difficult the problem is, is demonstrated by the statement that to determine the force of attraction between a mass of steel weighing 140 pounds and a ball of gold weighing an ounce and a half it is necessary to compute in millionths of a grain.

Odd Material for Check

A peculiar check that was cashed by a Kansas bank in 1908 has been unearthed during the cleaning out of a vault. While C. F. Sangster of Lyons, Kan., was busy overseeing the building of his home he picked up a block of soft pine an inch thick, seven inches long and three inches wide and proceeded to write a check on the Lyons National bank. The check was afterward cashed by Sam Temple, who, indorsing it, took it to the bank, where it was deposited and stamped "Paid."

Historic Rocking Chair

The old rocking chair in which Rev. Samuel Francis Smith sat when he wrote the hymn "America" has been acquired by the Phillips Andover academy. Smith was a student at the Andover Theological seminary, then a part of the academy, when, in 1832, he composed the patriotic song. He is said to have written the words in half an hour. The chair, long in possession of his descendants, once was carried to California, but has returned to stay.

The real cause of bad breath

"You cannot 'cover up' unpleasant breath for any length of time. The only way to rid yourself permanently of it is by removing the cause."

"Sometimes poor teeth are responsible. But the commonest cause of a coated tongue and offensive breath is constipation. You may not realize that your intestines are slow in eliminating waste matter, or that your breath is objectionable. But others will notice it."

"Get rid of constipation, and your breath will become fresh and sweet. Even more important, you will notice an immediate improvement in your health and spirits."

Nujol relieves constipation in Nature's own way

Constipation is dangerous for any body. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle, and so natural in its action.

Nujol simply makes up for a deficiency—temporary or chronic—in the supply of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular elimination without overtaxing the intestinal muscles. Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. To insure internal cleanliness, it should be taken regularly in accordance with the directions on each bottle. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time. Ask your druggist for Nujol today. Remove the cause of bad breath and begin to enjoy the perfect health that is possible only when elimination is normal and regular.

Scarecrows Passing Out

Scarecrows, which at one time could be seen on almost every farm along the roadside in England, and on many agricultural places in the United States, are rapidly passing out of use. Also, it is the rarest of sights to find a live "scarecrow" usually in the shape of a boy, hired to sit on the fence of a newly planted field, and make queer noises to keep crows away. The reason is that English farmers evidently do not any longer consider the crow an unmitigated enemy or foe of crops, but rather hold it a friend.

DALY CITY

NEWS NOTES OF PERSONAL INTEREST

By MARC WORST

Gus Huetberg and family, of 315 Templeton avenue, have moved to San Mateo.

J. L. Brown, of Ross, Marin county, was in Daly City on Thursday, attending to business matters.

William Frehsman, of 25 Vendome avenue, has sold his home and moved across the county line on Wilson street.

Miss Katherine McKeown and Miss Dorothy Myer visited their Alma Mater, San Mateo Junior College, last Friday.

Will the party who took the little boy's go-cart from 1056 Brunswick street kindly return it at once, as he is greatly grieved over the loss of his toy.

Marshal Doyle again equalled his record of several weeks ago when he recovered four automobiles stolen from San Francisco. All were found in Daly City.

Mrs. J. Barskey and mother, Mrs. Myer, of Vallejo, visited Mrs. J. Eisenberg last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. Sherwood and family are spending the Easter week at their country home in Muir Woods.

L. S. Ross and family, for five years residents of 1167 Hanover street, have sold their home there and moved to San Francisco.

Mrs. Wright has purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pitchman at 179 Goethe street, and will make her home here. Mr. and Mrs. Pitchman are opening an auto camp in Burlingame.

Messrs. Fahey & Rich, realtors, report a large number of real estate deals lately. They have lately opened a branch office opposite the New State Theatre to aid in caring for their rapidly growing business.

After a number of false fire alarms, Marshal Doyle is installing an invention of his own on each fire box, which will permit the apprehension of any such jokesters. This will not interfere with the proper operation of the box, but will catch any false alarm.

Superintendent Hawkins of the street department requests that no grass or weeds be thrown on the curb. He also asks that parents assist him by teaching their children not to throw glass in the street. The damage to tires by glass is excessive and the glass itself hard to clean off the streets. He notes that cans have been provided for papers. Kindly don't use the streets for rubbish. Help keep the city clean.

The pupils and faculty of the Jefferson district have been enjoying their Easter vacation this week.

Nearly every store in Daly City was closed today from 12 a. m. to 3 p. m., in observance of Good Friday.

A. Vireno and son, Lawrence Vireno, and Joseph Drucker were among a large class initiated last Wednesday into the I. O. O. F. They are now members of San Francisco Lodge No. 10.

The Woodrow Wilson-Vista Grande P. T. A. Choral, under the direction of Mrs. D. T. Bentley, is getting along fine. Mrs. Bentley desires more men's voices. The practices are held every Tuesday evening at her home, at 290 Los Banos avenue.

Mrs. Cook, of the water office, reports the following newcomers to Daly City: Theo. Gomez, 483 Bellevue; N. H. Alexander, 1167 Hanover; J. Gladius, 150 Crocker; E. F. Vittori, 48 Miriam; L. Reimche, 78 Hillcrest; L. C. Rowe, 201 Hillcrest; Costa Realty Co., 5992 Mission; James E. Lane, 275 Alexander.

K. Kasser of the Daly City Realty Company, in conversation with a reporter of the Record, stated that real estate sales in this community were on the increase, he having made a number of transfers recently. He predicts that the coming summer will see a large increase in the population of Daly City.

Superintendent J. Kennedy of the water works department, asks you to help him boost Daly City's water in a rather unique way. Kindly don't tamper with the water fountain at Hillcrest and Mission. Many people coming to Daly City just for some of our good water have been disappointed to find the fountain broken. Recently it has been necessary on four different occasions to install new spouts.

H. Shapiro, formerly a resident of this city, is still a firm believer in our future. During the last six months he has put up half a dozen good houses here and sold them to excellent advantage. He is now starting two more in a most desirable location. Men like Mr. Shapiro build up cities.

Harold White entertained several friends at a party last Saturday night at his home on Theta avenue. An excellent time was had by all. The refreshments were particularly fine. Those present were: Francis Stark, Frances Sampson, Oriole Fischer, Margaret Twisten, Eva Johnson, Katherine McKendrick, Walter Witt, Lloyd Lagomarsino, Archie Block, Edward Devincenzi, Lawrence Vireno and David Gehring.

FACULTY MEMBERS WILL PRESENT "LOTUS FLOWERS"

Do school teachers make good actors? At last the curious public may find an answer to this baffling question, for next Friday night the faculty of Jefferson high school will present the comedy "Lotus Flowers" in the school auditorium.

All the trouble starts when Miss Esther Torello, as Madam Valeria, a fraudulent mystic, deludes two trusting young women, played by Miss Effie Potter and Miss Anita Albushie, into believing that they have married the wrong men. Mr. Neil O. Best and Mr. Charles Cooley portray the irate husbands. Their plan to defeat the schemes of Madam Valeria forms the plot of the play. Miss Marjorie Robinson in the role of Helga, the Swedish maid, furnishes a large part of the comedy.

Miss Mildred Dannenbaum, dramatic coach of the school, is directing the play. Her successes last year with student productions promise a good performance this Friday with a faculty cast. Students are eagerly looking forward to their teachers' debut before the footlights, and anticipate much merriment at the antics of the usually dignified faculty. The actors, on the other hand, are maintaining a secretive silence, but those who know expect some big surprises on the night of the performance.

Tickets are on sale at the school for 25 cents each, and will be sold at the door. The play begins at 8 p. m., and will be followed by other entertainment, the details of which are being kept secret.

REALTY FIRM MOVES INTO NEW QUARTERS

The C. G. Costel Realty Company have moved into their new quarters at 5872 Mission street, at Oliver, in the New State Theatre building. This organization moved into this district about a year ago, at 599 Mission street, opposite Templeton avenue, and is chiefly interested in the development of the outer Mission districts, south of Geneva avenue, Daly City and Colma. In addition to their new office in the State Theatre building, they will retain their first location as a branch office.

During the past two months aside from their selling and leasing activities from the county line to Geneva avenue, they report brisk demands for homes and lots in Daly City and Colma. They report the sale of a big tract of land bounded by Mission street and San Jose avenue, to Robson & Robson, whose intention is to build about forty first class homes. Also more than forty lots to different clients of the office, an ten lots to Oscar Hyman & Bro., owned by L. Spani. This firm with its new facilities and enlarged sales organization is certainly living up to its slogan district.

CHRIST NOW SITS

"Christ, the Lord, has risen today!"
Sons of men and angels say.
Raise your Joys and triumphs high,
Sing, ye heavens! Thou earth reply.

Love's redeeming work is done;
Fought the fight, the battle won;
Lo! the sun's eclipse is o'er;
Lo! he sets in blood no more.

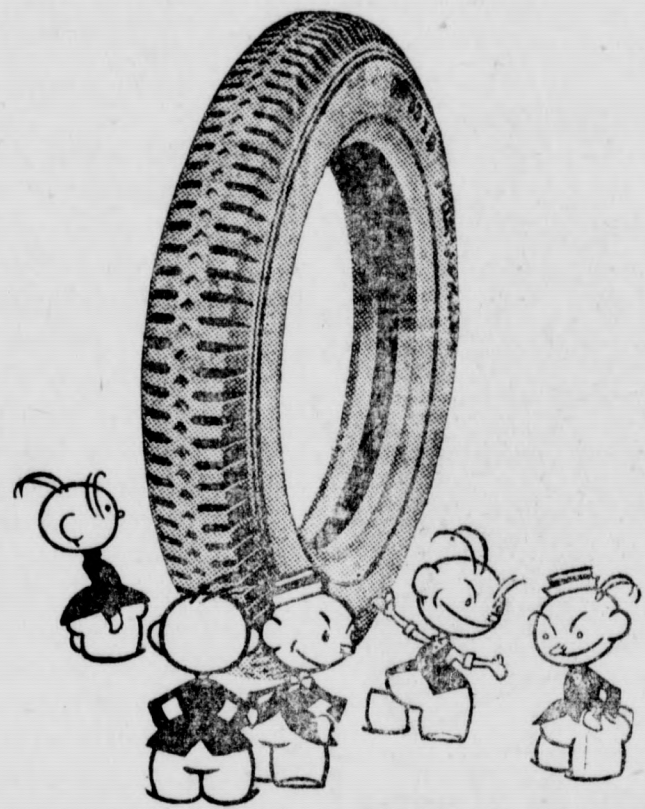

Vain the stone, the watch, the seal;
Christ has burst the gates of hell;
Death in vain forbids His rise,
Christ has opened Paradise.

Lives again our glorious King;
Where, O death, is now thy sting?
Once He died, our souls to save;
Where's thy victory, boasting grave?

Soar we now where Christ has led,
Follow our exalted Head;
Made like Him, like Him we rise,
Ours the cross, the grave, the skies.

"THE BLACK PIRATE" COMING TO WILKES THEATRE SUNDAY

The first showing west of New York of Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "The Black Pirate," will be made at the Wilkes Theatre in San Francisco, the opening being scheduled for next Sunday evening, April 4. "The Black Pirate" is now showing in only two cities in the world—New York and London—and San Francisco is to have the second showing in the United States. Owing to the fact that the Wilkes could be obtained for a short time only, "The Black Pirate" will play a limited engagement, making it advisable for those desiring to see Fairbanks' latest picture to place their reservations early.

Big Service--Low Cost

No car we've ever handled has shown a bigger dollar for dollar value than the Pathfinder. Thousands of car owners everywhere have been using them for years in the Clincher sizes. They're available now in Straight Side and Balloon types.

And speaking about prices—just see these representative values:

30x3 1/2 Pathfinder Clincher Cord	$10.95
29x4.40 Pathfinder Balloon	$15.00
32x4 Pathfinder Straight Side Cord	$20.45

Other sizes equally low priced.
